CAMPO™ BATH COLLECTION

In the Piazza del Campo, the city center of Siena, stands the Fonte Gaia, or Fountain of the World. For hundreds of years, the town's water supply was transported there through 15 miles of tunnels, aqueducts, and conduits. The Campo™ Bath Collection takes the industrial design of this water system into today with clean details and contemporary styling. The distinctive crosshatch knurling on the spout and handles are inspired by valve wheels; they give Campo a minimalist spirit suitable for baths that take a modern or transitional approach.
