Outdoor Grill Discontinuation Notice

The Sub-Zero Group has announced an important update to the Wolf Outdoor product lineup. The Outdoor Grills and Grill Cart models will be discontinued as current inventory sells, while they begin preparing for a new Outdoor Kitchen lineup manufactured in-house. This new Outdoor Collection will offer everything needed to create cohesive, luxurious outdoor kitchens with the same performance, quality, and style as the Wolf indoor appliances.

The factory is excited about transitioning to the new outdoor products however they are not prepared to share all details of this launch yet, so they have provided a Q&A below to assist with any initial questions.

FAQ

- What do I do with displays?
 - Leave as-is for now. As we have inventory remaining to sell, we recommend no action.
- Should we quote the current product in showrooms?
 - No change in approach in the showrooms. We will communicate with you when we should transition to discussing the new models.
- Why are we discontinuing before the new is available?
 - Like ice makers, we had to notify our OEM far in advance as we worked together on a mutually agreeable wind-down plan and despite best intension, we could not line up the transition to a specific date. Running out early with a gap was the preference.
- When will we know what to do next?
 - In the coming months we will provide an update on next steps for marketing, website, and displays. We will also provide updates for the new products as that schedule is solidified.
- How will the website call this out?
 - We will be working on updates to the website with discontinued items, however we are prioritizing the launch, and will follow up with updates later. Since we are not selling on our website, a dealer will inform a consumer of availability.
