“Life is too short for boring bathrooms.”

Enjoy our new 2026 Collections.

After the successful launch of our Pontem Home 2025 catalog last year, it's time for the next update. Our suppliers continue to push the boundaries of innovation, and in this edition you'll discover fresh inspiration in a market that's evolving faster than ever.

In our Dutch Connection article, we shine a spotlight on the special relationships we share with our partners. A shared passion for design and quality truly makes the difference. It's this passion that designers and homeowners alike can feel. People who want to be heard and who believe in living without compromise.

One of the highlights in this issue is our collaboration between Alice Ceramica and Berloni Bagno. Together, we've created a distinctive new vanity collection called SPY. By combining the strengths of both partners, we've translated their expertise into an affordable yet luxurious collection where color, once again, plays a central role.

By popular demand, our mood boards are back, and better than ever. They continue to prove their value as an easy and inspiring way to build concepts across our collections, helping clients visualize ideas and sparking excitement from the very first glance.

There's simply too much good stuff to list it all here - so start browsing and be sure to visit our online platform for the latest product updates, inventory information, and more.

Welcome to New Arrivals 2026!

New Arrivals 2026 features our most recently added collections from Pontem Home brands, designed to support you and your clients throughout the selection process. Together, our experience center, catalogs and online platforms create a seamless 360 degree experience.

In addition to the products featured in this catalog, you also have access to the full range of products from each brand. Our complete collections are available for download at pontemhome.com. Simply visit the CATALOG section to download individual brand catalogs or select to download all at once.

Our Online Trade Platform at shop.pontemhome.com provides additional resources, including:

- Technical specifications and manuals
- Product videos
- Pricing information
- Live inventory
- Quickship filter for in stock only items
- Newly released products
- Clearance section featuring newly discontinued products
- Outlet section for display units on sale
- Online ordering capabilities

Product Codes are listed with each collection. If an item is available in only one color, that code serves as the final reference. For items with multiple color options, codes ending in "XXX" should be completed using the corresponding color ID provided on the page.

Colors and Materials are for reference only. Final product selections should always be confirmed using manufacturer-provided samples for each brand. Due to variations in printing processes, catalog colors may differ from the actual product.

The Dutch Connection

by Rene Maan

Raised in Amsterdam and shaped by a global perspective, Rene Maan, founder of Pontem Home, has built his brand on a pursuit of thoughtful design, distinctive products, and uncompromising quality. After finding himself in Cleveland, his journey has come full circle - reconnecting with his European roots, particularly in Holland, where craftsmanship and innovation remain deeply embedded in design culture.

The Dutch Connection explores this return: a longstanding relationship between Rene, two Dutch brands, and a designer whose work bridges both. Having grown up in the industry together for over two decades, their shared history is reflected in a natural alignment of values - where creativity, collaboration, and design integrity come together.

Q: What makes the Dutch connection in this case so special?

A: Our shared history began over 30 years ago, when Lammert Moerman (JEE-O) and I first connected as young professionals in the industry. Although we each followed our own paths, we have always remained connected. What has kept us closely aligned over the years are our shared values, creativity, passion for the industry, and a constant drive for innovation.

Today, that strong foundation has grown into an even more dynamic collaboration. We are proud to have Bastiaan Beun, Managing Director of The Mosaic Factory, alongside renowned Dutch designer Osiris Hertman, who works with both companies.

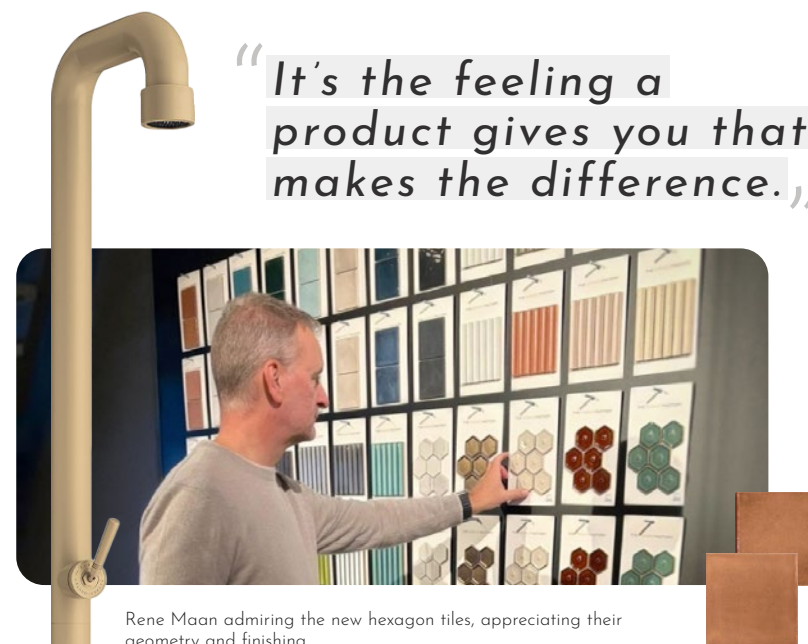

People love stories, and we have many to tell.

Q: How does being a Dutch company influence the way you think about design, craftsmanship, and quality?

A: Practical design led by reduction rather than adding features and details. A more minimalist approach, with a focus on personal use and longevity, are key elements we tend to apply.

Q: Is there a place, tradition, or memory from home that continues to inspire your designs today?

A: Not really. In a global environment where we are all connected in one way or another through travel, social media, and multicultural influences, it's exciting to see so many inspirations come together. We can learn a lot from other cultures and countries, which helps us stay relevant in design.

Rene Maan admiring the new hexagon tiles, appreciating their geometry and finishing.

“It's the feeling a product gives you that makes the difference.”

Q: Where does inspiration usually begin for you - materials, form, function, or a feeling?

A: A combination of all. Inspiration comes in many forms, and how we feel when we interact with a product or experience is what makes the difference.

Q: Why are materials so important to the story of your products?

A: We tend to use the purest materials in our products, materials that last and are environmentally conscious and sustainable. Enjoyment and responsibility go hand in hand. This is the driving force behind our suppliers, who are all very conscious about this subject.

Q: What should people know or feel when they experience your product for the first time?

A: Clearly, we want people to feel a sense of “wow” when they interact with our products. We start and end our day in the bathroom, so there's nothing better than feeling good during these moments.

Q: What excites you most about seeing your products used together in a space?

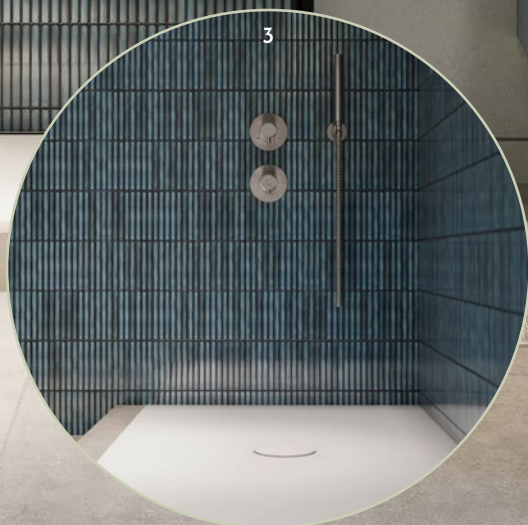

A: When our products blend into one consistent design and complement each other well, I believe we've done a great job curating them. We take great care in selecting the right partners and specialists in their respective areas, and when this comes together as one cohesive solution, that is the best compliment we can receive.

Q: What do you think American designers and homeowners appreciate most about European craftsmanship?

A: Countries like Germany and Switzerland are known for precision and quality, and Italy for its leadership in design. That in itself is a key factor for clients, as they invest in products for many years and want them to perform well while remaining fresh in terms of design and style.

ALL IN ONE PLACE.

DECOR WALTHER

Since 1973

Decor Walther creates fine interior accessories made to last. Founded in Frankfurt in 1973 by Harald Walther, the company - still family-owned today - has grown into an internationally present brand. With a deep appreciation for craftsmanship, material quality, and precise manufacturing, Decor Walther creates products for bathrooms and living spaces that shape environments and accompany everyday life.

In close collaboration with selected partners, many of them family-run manufacturers, Decor Walther combines traditional production methods with a timeless design philosophy. The collections are defined by a clear design language. Bins Decor Walther introduces three new PVD surfaces to the Pedal Bin TE50 and the Waste Bin 3 & 4. These bins bring a quiet sense of luxury to the everyday.

PVD coatings are characterized by a very high degree of hardness. They are therefore insensitive to scratches and abrasion and have a high level of corrosion resistance. Thus, they are extremely sturdy and long-lasting.

Bathroom Accessories

Solid material provides the foundation for Soho, lending it that urban chic that makes the metropolis so distinctive.

Soho

Decor Walther elevates your essentials with the Soho collection. The visible screws fascinate, just like New York’s iron fire escapes. Both carry the promise of a long-lasting relationship.

THE MOSAIC FACTORY

Let's create something beautiful

Hexagon by Osiris Hertman

The Mosaic Factory and Dutch architect Osiris Hertman present their latest mosaic collaboration: an exclusive collection of hexagon tiles that brings together nature, craftsmanship and architecture. The collection shows how an ancient shape - the hexagon - can not only embellish a space, but also bring it to life.

The hexagonal shape was not chosen at random: it is one of the most efficient shapes in nature. The beehive - an architectural marvel of nature - served as the starting point. Hertman translated that natural precision into ceramics, paying attention to both the functional power and the organic beauty of the pattern.

'Nature is my greatest source of inspiration,' says Hertman. 'It teaches us that beauty and efficiency can go hand in hand. The hexagon is the perfect example of this - powerful, balanced and organic.'

The collection consists of 3D ceramic mosaic tiles with a special glaze finish that allows light to play across each surface. This creates a subtle layering, bringing walls to life and giving spaces a natural depth.

The collection is available in three different earthy tones: Café Latte, Crème Caramel and Forest Green. This allows each space to have its own character without losing the harmony of the whole.

About Hertman

Osiris Hertman is a Dutch designer and architect known for his timeless interiors and custom designs. His work combines natural materials, craftsmanship and technology in spaces that exude tranquility and elegance.

In line with Hertman's vision of interior architecture, this tile series combines tranquility, tactility and refinement. A bathroom is transformed into a wellness space with a sense of serenity, while a kitchen or workspace takes on a warm, homely atmosphere.

'I want my designs to do more than make an aesthetic statement,' says Hertman. 'An interior should evoke a feeling - of balance, of nature, of tranquillity. These tiles achieve that through their shape, texture and shine.'
