

KITCHEN OF THE FUTURE

Not even Marty McFly could have predicted this kitchen of the future. As we start making plans for 2012 and beyond, I can't help but get excited thinking about all of our new Thermador innovations in the pipeline. Our product designers and engineers have been diligently working away at some of the most technologically advanced kitchen appliances in the industry. The kitchen of the future - or the Ultimate Culinary Kitchen, as we like to call it - is just around the corner. And parts of it are already here. Read More

THERMADOR CHEF DEMOS SALAD RECIPE (VIDEO)

Our very own Executive Chef Brad Petersen recently scored his own TV show on the BYUtv network, and we couldn't be more proud. Since the show aired, we started piecing together highlights and cooking demonstration videos. Here is the first in a series we'll feature on a regular basis. Read More

ULTIMATE CULINARY CENTER LAUNCH IS HERE

Thermador, the inventor of the wall oven and countless other kitchen appliance firsts, asks the question: "Do you cook?" That question has never been more relevant than now, as the brand readies for the launch of the Pro Grand® Steam Range. Read More
